

GEORGE I WALNUT CHAIRBACK SETTEE - REF 2159

A very good George I walnut chair back settee, retaining excellent original colour and patina. The wide back with gently curving top rail, is divided into two sections each with vase shaped splats veneered in fine figured walnut. The splats with neatly carved scrolled hips and surmounted by scrolls to the top of the central vase section where it joins the top rail of the settee. From each side of the back, emanates a gently curving, moulded arm rest which joins the walnut veneered seat rail on each curved side. The settee is supported by three cabriole legs to the front, with carved shell knees, scroll edged thighs and pad feet. To the rear three cabriole legs form the support for the settee. The drop in seat is now covered with a 19th century needlework.

This chairback settee is full of delightful curved surfaces, it is very elegantly proportioned and in fine condition throughout.
