REGENCY ROSEWOOD & BRASS INLAID CENTRE TABLE - REF 2279

A superb Regency rosewood and brass inlaid centre table by S. Jamar, London. The circular top of well figured rosewood veneer, cross-banded to the outer circumference, this cross-banding further inlaid with a band of kingwood with a foliate cut brass band laid within. The table is supported on a tapering triangular shaped column, mounted with fine quality ormolu decoration. The table is supported on a tri-partite, rosewood veneered base with further ormolu mounts and stands on carved giltwood scroll paw feet. The table is in fabulous condition and retains excellent colour and patina throughout. Stamped S Jamar.

Joe Gregory was the chief operating officer of the infamous Lehman brothers, having worked for the firm for a period of nearly 30 years before the company's dramatic failure in the financial crisis of 2008. Together with his wife Nicky, Joe was an avid collector of the best English furniture, European artworks, porcelain and objects. The couple acquired most of their collection from top dealers in the UK and USA.
