A PAIR OF GEORGE III SHERATON PERIOD SATINWOOD & TULIPWOOD BANDED CARD TABLES - REF 2375

A fine pair of George III Sheraton period demi-lune card tables, veneered with the finest West Indian satinwood and cross-banded with tulipwood.

The tops with a large inlaid marquetry fan positioned centrally on the straight side, with tulipwood cross-banding, strung with box and ebony around the periphery and a further large concentric sycamore fan. Both rear legs swing out to support the opened top which has a green baize lined, leather edge playing surface.

Below the frieze divided into panels, again with tulipwood cross-banding around each. The square section tapering legs with ebony strung edges and ebony toes. A very nice touch indicative of quality, is that the frieze to the rear of the table is finished in satinwood with neat brass latches to hold both rear swing legs. A particularly well proportioned and handsome pair of tables retaining excellent colour and patina throughout.
